Stefan Kist, Head of Christie's Interiors, New York, and Erica Barrish, Head of Sale, say: "We are thrilled with the result of today's sale. There was strong, consistent bidding throughout the auction, with noticeable support for younger, emerging artists, as well as continued success for those already established in the marketplace. Buyers joined a packed saleroom from across the globe, by phone and by utilizing Christie's LIVE™, and helped ensure the excellent result. The second Open House to be held at Christie's New York, the sale further illustrates Christie's continued leadership in the Post-War and Contemporary field, providing clients both new and seasoned with the widest range of price points for buying in this very popular collecting field."
