COMMENT: "It was a thrilling day for Chinese export as lot 98, the important pair of soldier vases with the arms of Philip V of Spain, soared to $307,200, setting a world auction record for Chinese armorial porcelain," said Becky MacGuire, Christie's specialist in Chinese Export Art. "Bidders also competed fiercely for classic Kangxi period blue and white and famille verte porcelains from the collections of Alexander Saunderson and Deane F. Johnson, both formed in America in the postwar era. We were pleased to see that throughout the sale bidders and buyers hailed from Asia, Europe, North and South America."
