“Today’s auction which saw the highest ever total for a Post War & Contemporary Art Day Sale at Christie’s in London concluded an exceptional week of sales at Christie’s. Works by established and new artists saw great demand from a truly international client-base, with many traveling to London to attend the 2 session sale in person. Over 100 works from the Tettamanti Collection offered at the beginning of each session, set the tone for this thrilling sale and we are privileged to have been entrusted with such an outstanding collection. Further works from the collection will be offered in Milan in May,” said Anthony McNerney, Head of Sale
