COMMENT: "Today's packed sale room and explosive prices reinforce the fact that Bobby Short was truly an integral part of New York City's culture and a man loved by friends and fans around the world," says Cathy Elkie, Director of Special Collections and specialist in charge of the sale. "That buyers from his hometown of Danville, IL even participated in today's sale underscores people's continued affection for this man. We are particularly thrilled with the results of Bobby's Bechstein grand piano – perhaps the centerpiece of the sale – but we are equally delighted to see that the top ten lots truly represents a great cross section of the sale and his unique design aesthetic. From the cocktail chic ice bucket by Cartier, to the sleek Art Deco fire screen, to Bill Traylor's Black Crow, the highlight of his impressive collection of work by African American artists, the top ten echoes his eclectic eye and impeccable taste."
