COMMENT: Felix de Marez Oyens, International Director and Francis Wahlgren, Head of the Books and Manuscripts department: "The result of the first portion of this extraordinary sale was nothing short of spectacular. The auction was one hundred percent sold and the total nearly doubled the pre-sale low estimate. The exceptionally fine condition and the important bindings and provenances made collectors, institutions and booksellers stretch to acquire books from the most highly bibliophile reference library ever assembled. The market's enthusiasm may be seen as a tribute to Dr. Breslauer's taste and discrimination in rare bibliography. If one single book in the sale is to be singled out, it has to be the Henry van de Velde inlaid morocco binding, whose splendid technique matches its bold Art-Nouveau mosaic design."
