"Today's sale which totaled an all record breaking $18.9 million, continued to intensify the Prints and Multiples market which has been building at a brisk pace over the past years. A profoundly international audience has become aware of the incredible value that can still be had in this collecting field and the records that were set in Christie's two-day sale, proves the steady growth of this category. For artists from Edward Hopper to Andy Warhol, the sale shattered previous world auction records and was heavily supported by bidding in the room, one the phone and through Christie's online bidding feature Christie's LIVE" said Kelly Troester, Head of Sale.
