“A buzzing saleroom saw international bidding in this tightly-edited sale. Five new world auction records were established led by Big Nude III by the master photographer Helmut Newton which broke the previous record held by Christie's London. The four lots of Kate Moss images taken by some of the world's foremost photographers collectively totaled £183,000 and confirm her status as a cultural icon and arguably the most influential model of our day. We look forward to the final Photographs sale for the season at South Kensington on 6 June,” said Yuka Yamji, Head of Photographs, Christie's London
