Comment: Dan Tolson, Specialist in charge of the sale: The sale was buoyant throughout, with a full turnout in the room and a large number of telephone and commission bids which combined to generate lively and energetic bidding. Collectors focused their attentions on the top lots in the sale, for example with lot 243 achieving £18,000, way exceeding the pre-sale estimate. There was a good spread of buyers from Japan, USA, France and the UK, with a healthy number of new and private buyers coming to the market at entry level for pieces in the £200-£2000 price bracket. We're looking forward to our forthcoming sale on the 17th May 2007.
