COMMENT: Rupert Banner, Associate Director, Auctioneer & Head of Motor Cars, Christie's:

"We are delighted with the results of this sale. The 1998 McLaren F1 exceeded all our expectations, and is the highest price paid at auction for a motor car this year at £731,250, achieved after a long battle between bidders on the telephone and in the saleroom. Interest throughout the auction was international, with many lots secured by Continental and US buyers. All five collections, four of automobilia and one of cars were 100% sold, with some exceptional results, most notably £9,987 for Fernand Gabriel's gold and jewelled stick pin brooch. This sale concludes the 2003 season for Christie's International Motor Cars and brings worldwide sales to £13.7million ($22 million). We look forward to our return to Paris for the Rétromobile auction on 14 February 2004."
