Pippa Jacomb, Associate Director, Modern British Art, Head of Day Sale, Christie's London: "Following the success of the 'Modern British Art Evening Sale' we are extremely pleased with the strong results witnessed in the 'Modern British and Irish Art Day Sale.' A busy saleroom saw competitive bidding across the spectrum of periods and styles in the category. Notable prices were achieved for works by Lowry, Christopher Wood and for 'Genghis Khan' by Philip King which set a new world record price for the artist at auction. We are particularly pleased with the results achieved for the works from the collection of Tony Reichardt which have attracted great interest and which was sold 100% by lot."
