Jeremy Morrison, Senior Director 20th Century Decorative Art and Design, Head of department

"We are pleased with the results of the sale, which saw strong bidding from Christie's Live, with just under 20% of lots either bought or underbid online, including the Art Deco dressing table by Ruhlmann which sold to a private American collector for £62,500. The success of the sale was characterized by a noticeable increase in pre-sale viewing by our international clients, especially from Asia. The growth of interest in the field from our Asian clients illustrates the true reach of Christie's, and we are pleased to see the breadth of material they, and others, are competing for. The top three is headed by a work by UK contemporary designer Mark Brazier-Jones, closely followed by a major Art Nouveau ceramic work and a classic example of work by the master of Art Deco furniture, Emile-Jacques Ruhlmann. The breadth of interest and strength bodes well for the future of the market".
