The strength of interest from Christie's LIVE™ bidders from around the world demonstrates a growing global interest in collecting fine examples of rare maps. The leading lot was a superbly hand-colored Ptolemaic map from the 1482 Ulm edition, which sold for a record-setting $317,000. Ken Nebenzahl has been a leading scholar and dealer in the fields of Americana, travel, exploration and cartography since 1957 and it has been an honor to handle both his personal collection of important books and manuscripts, as well as his maps."
