January 14, 2015 – Christie's Travel, in association with Abercrombie & Kent, is delighted to introduce a collection of exceptional art journeys combining the talents of the world's leading art business and the international leader in luxury travel. Renowned for their shared passions in creating extraordinary and meaningful experiences for their clients around the world, A&K and Christie's have come together to handpick destinations which are best suited to small, intimate groups of like-minded individuals who love art, culture and travel. From the Côte D'Azur, Venice, Florence, and London, to Cairo and Beijing, every itinerary features signature 'insider access' elements to provide special art experiences in an exclusive setting – with behind-the-scenes entrée to the art world, plus personal insights from a Christie's specialist. Each Christie's host has acquired deep expertise in their specialty through a unique combination of academic preparation and real-world experience in the hunt for the world's most sought-after auction items, accumulating vast networks of artists, collectors and curators. The result is a truly distinctive experience for those who are curious and just dipping their toe into the art world, or simply fanatical about art.

The 2015 collection features two options of itineraries to cater for the varying levels of art or cultural engagement desired by the client. The 'Experience Tours' are itineraries designed to focus on the whole cultural experience of a destination, and appeal to art and culture lovers. Custom-made 'signature moments' are woven into each itinerary to offer one-off art-focused experiences, led by a Christie's specialist in exclusive settings. Aspirational art connoisseurs will find these special experiences the perfect preview for a Collector Tour. For a limited time, the Experience Tour to Egypt is available at a savings of £500 per person, double occupancy, if booked before 28 February, 2015. See details below.

The 'Collector Tours' are designed for art enthusiasts, aspiring collectors and connoisseurs – those interested in collecting, or those wishing to increase their knowledge in a specific genre of their art or cultural interest. These tours are in-depth and focused on the learning experience, offering rare, insider experiences to the usually inaccessible layers of the art world. Meeting leading artists, collectors and curators of world-class art institutions around the world is integral to these itineraries as is their expert leadership. Throughout each tour, a leading specialist from Christie's accompanies the group, offering a new or different perspective on their area of expertise in fine or contemporary art, jewellery or design, or the art market and collecting.
